MESSAGE: Crews C-33, C-34, and C-35 worked to construct contingency lines in identified areas south of the current fire perimeter. Crews C-36 and C-37 were placed in staging for the shift. At the beginning of the shift, transportation (three buses) was only available to transport three crews to the fire line, necessitating those two remaining crews be assigned to staging for the shift. Enough rental vehicles arrived this afternoon to ensure that two crews will have transportation for tomorrow's shift. However, three crews will have to utilize the buses for transportation until more rentals arrive. Management of the incident transitioned to McGowan's Type 1 Team.

Typical signs of acclimation to the work and area were apparent in crews after the first work day, but nothing out of the ordinary.

IARR (t) Collins arrived and started making contact with the crews and the incident management team.
